Enviro Save® Expanding to Australia and New Zealand

POINT ROBERTS, WA - Enviro Save Products announces further expansion into the global marketplace, says David Stumpo, Vice-President Operations. Enviro Save Australia/Ultimate Diesel Products Ltd. opens for business and will handle all sales and service for the Enviro Save Product line in Australia and New Zealand.

Mike Van Stroe, Managing Director of Enviro Save Australia/UDP Ltd. has extensive business experience in heavy equipment. Mike says, our goal is to improve our customers' equipment with Enviro Save products. We are excited about the results we have gotten to date and look forward to growing our business.

Enviro Save® has been manufactured for 19 years. Enviro Save is a TFE resin based product which reduces the coefficient of friction and increases the life cycle of equipment with just a "one-time" treatment. It is not an oil or fuel additive. Laboratory testing, field testing and over 550,000 applications have concluded with a significant improvement in the use of this product. Enviro Save's service proven record will change the way fleet owners maintain their equipment.

Enviro Save Australia is headquartered in Ellenbrook, Western Australia. They can be reached at telephone number 61-8-9296-8419 or by email at envirosaveaustralia@hotmail.com.
